BIOGRAPHY OF CLAUDIO ROSSI:

Claudio Rossi studies violin, classical guitar and harmonica, counterpoint and composition; he also plays viola, flamenco and folk guitar, bouzouki and mandolin.

He begins to carry out his activity with various artists including Paolo Conte, Claudio Simonetti, Elio e Le Storie Tese, Giorgio Conte, Bruno Gambarotta, Francesco Guccini, Eugenio Finardi, Gipo Farassino, Davide Van Der Froos, Bruno Lauzi, Nanni Svampa and others.

In the recording field he produces both as a musician and as an arranger, artistic producer and conductor.

In tournée he has worked both concert and theatrical in Italy, Europe and Latin America.

In the field of cinema he worked as an instrumentalist in the creation of soundtracks, the last of which was that of the film "I love you Eugenio" with Giuliana De Sio and Gian Carlo Giannini.

As a composer he writes soundtracks for RAI .

In recent years he has embarked on a solo career by recording two singer-songwriter albums, with music and arrangements by Claudio Rossi and lyrics by the author Renzo Marchesini:

the first, "Il lago nel pagliaio", attended by illustrious guests such as Giorgio Conte, Bruno Gambarotta, the "Orchestra Classica di Alessandria", Agostino Marangolo (Goblin) and Antonio Marangolo Paolo Conte's arranger, Antonello Salis and others;

the second "Viaggiatore di coperta" which describes the travel, real and otherwise, of human "things" as seen from inside man where the deck is an opportunity to see and be seen: the cheapest but perhaps more rich. The journey, a path of passages, of short stops and continuous restarts. The journey and its travellers.
